WILSON STUDIES
SEWER PROGRAM

Downtown Street Cleaning To Be Given Attention Also

Frank Wilson, former contractor and builder, yesterday assumed his duties as director of public service. With wintry weather prevailing, his work consisted largely of inspections and surveys where possible, with a view to establishing a definite work program as soon as possible. In keeping with the financial means of the municipality, he will seek economy.

He declared today that a sharp eye will be kept on the pocketbook and that operations will be conducted as economically as possible until income is increased. He indicated, however, that where the need is urgent, the welfare of the community will be the first consideration.

He inspected the ditch near the sewage disposal plant and his department will begin the job of cleaning it out as soon as weather permits.

He is considering plans also for a street cleaning campaign which, however, must be delayed until the weather breaks.

Better street lighting at night is another problem that will be tackled early in the year. Council members are also at work on this project and it is likely a survey will be made in the near future.

A survey of sewers will be undertaken too. Minor problems in several sections of the city will be taken care of early on this program, the director says.

Prospective Workers Listed

Approximately a half dozen members of the service department outside crew are handling the work that is available at the present time. Director Wilson yesterday jotted down the names of men available and listed them for "on call" duty.

Fernan Rinehart, a former service director in Salem, will supervise the crew's activities, as foreman.

Sam Pasco, a veteran member of the force, will be assigned chiefly to meter setting and sewer operations where his experience will be utilized to advantage.

Bruno Welcomes 30-Day Reprieve

Bruno Hauptmann, pictured above in his cell, has been given at least two months' additional to live as a result of Governor Hoffman's reprieve, granted yesterday afternoon on the eve of the scheduled execution. The reprieve has spurred efforts of defense counsel to obtain new evidence in an effort to save the prisoner's life.

DAMASCUS FARM
MEET ARRANGED

Institute Sessions Will Be Held Tuesday, Wednesday, Feb. 4, 5

DAMASCUS, Jan. 17.—The Farmers' Institute for Damascus and vicinity will be held Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, and Wednesday, Feb. 5.

The sessions Wednesday will begin at 10 a. m., 1 p. m. and 8 p. m. An interesting program is being prepared by the committee.

Earle Reed Speaker

Earle G. Reed of Columbus will be the speaker, appearing on the program Tuesday evening with an illustrated lecture and again Wednesday morning with a talk.

Reed is the originator of the Master Farmer plan, president of the Live Stock Loss Prevention Association of Ohio; chairman of the National Live Stock Loss Prevention board; agriculture agent for the New York Central Lines; and conductor of Agricultural Tours Exhibit Trains.

In addition to the illustrated lecture Tuesday evening, Garfield grange will present a playlet.

The Officers

The officers are: President, C. E. Crawford; vice president, Olin Shoar; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Amstutz; program committee, L. H. Glass, Mrs. Charles Malmesbury and Charles Hoffman; music committee, Earl Santee, Mrs. J. H. Cameron and Mrs. Lorin Malmesbury.

Jury Charges Gain
During Past Year

LISBON, Jan. 17.—Jury fees in this county during 1935 cost taxpayers $8,685.24 as against a record of $7,202.93 for 1934. It was revealed here today.

Last year the county paid $916.56 in fees to grand jurors and $7,768.68 to those who served as petit jurors.

Grand jury fees during 1934 totaled $1,108.20 and petit jury fees $6,660.48.

During 1935, the county paid grand jurors during the January term $207.42 and during the April term, grand jurors were paid $237.42 and petit jurors $2,897.85.

Heavier costs were shown during the recent September term closing Jan. 6, when grand jurors were paid $471.27 and petit jurors $2,663.52, or a total cost during the term of $3,134.79.

It is recalled that the September grand jury was in session several weeks, and that one court case continued into the third week.

GOVERNOR SILENT ON FUTURE PLANS

Expresses Desire, However, to Interrogate Dr.
"Jafsie" Condon

By DALE HARRISON
(Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press)

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Bruno Hauptmann's 30-day reprieve spurred a defense search today for new evidence and raised the possibility Gov. Harold G. Hoffman might question Dr. John F. Condon about his oft-told story of the Lindbergh ransom negotiations.

The governor who dramatically stayed Hauptmann's execution 29 hours before the scheduled time, has expressed a desire to interrogate "Jafsie" on purported discrepancies between his court testimony and a series of articles on the crime.

Condon Ship Docks

Dr. Condon and his daughter, Mrs. Myra Hacker, docked today at Cristobal, Canal Zone, their first stop on a southern cruise.

The reprieve period and the additional four to eight weeks required by legal processes would make it possible for Dr. Condon to return here before the new date for Hauptmann's execution.

The governor, who has interested himself in the case since his visit to Hauptmann's cell last October, divulged no details of his plans.

"What I will do during the next 30 days I don't know," he said. He did not amplify his declaration that the reprieve was motivated by "divers reason which I do not care to disclose at this time."

"I just had to do it," he said in New York last night. "It was one of those things that I had to do and I did it."

Hauptmann's legal forces, headed by C. Lloyd Fisher, had not found an opportunity to confer on new methods to save the prisoner, for whom a third execution date will be set by Justice Thomas W. Trenchard on application of Attorney General David T. Wilentz.

New Evidence Sole Hope

Their sole hope of saving the Bronx carpenter, convicted nearly a year ago, lies in the uncovering of new evidence.

The one-sentence refusal yesterday of the United States supreme court to grant a habeas corpus writ showed them the hopelessness of further legal efforts except those that can be supported by new and vital facts.

Should such evidence be found, they might apply to the aged Justice Trenchard for a new trial or to the court of pardons for commutation of sentence.

The governor's eleventh-hour intervention made after talking to Mrs. Hauptmann in her hotel room, brought a call from the Trenton State Gazette and the Trenton Evening Times for his impeachment.

"Governor Harold G. Hoffman has sacrificed all moral and legal right to serve as chief executive of New Jersey. He should be impeached and thrown out of office," said the State Gazette.

Romance? Not For Mr. Eskimo;
He Prefers Wife Who'll Work

Intimate Traits of Northlanders Revealed by Dr. C. M. Garber in Address Here

Half the world doesn't know much about the other half. Consider the Eskimo. There are few who don't know that such people inhabit the arctic regions, but their intimate habits, customs and traits are shrouded in mystery as engulfin' as the arctic nights themselves except to Dr. C. M. Garber.

Dr. Garber spent eight years as federal director of education in the Territory of Alaska, from 1926 to 1934. He came out in the latter year on a lecture tour and expects to return in the future.

Speaking before Salem Kiwanis club members yesterday at noon in the Memorial building, he presented a story so bizarre and at times startling, that there appeared to his hearers visions of an almost unknown people.

On Trial Basis

He takes the girl on a trial basis, a sort of a companionate marriage affair. If a child is born the union is consummated. However, if, after a year or two, the girl can't perform the household chores to the master's liking and the couple remain childless, she's sent back home. And that's that.

Their emotions are largely biological, animalistic, said Dr. Garber. The Eskimo male wants sons.

Ellsworth and Kenyon Are Safe

COUNTY SCOUTS
RALLY TUESDAY

G. F. Hammond, Youngstown, To Speak At Lisbon Meeting

The annual banquet of Columbiana county Boy Scouts will be held at 6:30 p. m. next Tuesday in the American Legion home in Lisbon.

Lodge Riddle of Lisbon, president of the council, will serve as toastmaster.

The entertainment features of the program will consist of vocal solos by Rowland T. Kaufman, well known tenor soloist of East Liverpool. He will be accompanied by Clair Chambers.

The Scouts of Salem will present a pageant, "Building a Citizenship Foundation Through Scouting."

John Coleman of East Liverpool will lead group singing.

The speaker will be G. F. Hammond of Youngstown, a member of the executive board of Region Four. For a number of years he has had an active part in guiding the program of Scouting in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

The silver beaver award will come as a surprise to one of the active Scouts of the council.

Six scouts will be awarded eagle badges.

Officers will be elected for the coming year and the scout executive will make his annual report.

About 125 people are expected to attend.

WELFARE UNIT IS ORGANIZED

Mrs. Winifred Hill of Salem
Is Officer of County Group

Mrs. Winifred Hill of Salem was elected first vice president of the Child Welfare Association of Columbiana county at a meeting of the group Thursday night in the courthouse at Lisbon.

Atty Robert E. Hall of Lisbon was named president. Other officers are: Second vice president, Mrs. Robert T. Hall of East Liverpool; secretary, Miss L. A. Southerland, Lisbon, and treasurer, Paul M. Skinner, Wellsville.

An executive committee, which also includes the above named officers, is composed of: H. Y. Elliott, East Liverpool; Hector Moore, East Palestine; Mrs. F. J. McGahan, Columbiana, and Rev. H. E. Martin of Sallenville.

A meeting of the executive committee will be held Monday night in probate court, Lisbon, for the purpose of choosing a definite name for the organization. Committees also will be named.

A general meeting of the association will be held next Thursday night. Judge H. W. Hammond was chairman of last night's session.

Open Safe Thwarts
Bandit at Alliance

ALLIANCE, Jan. 17.—Police today were seeking a would be thief whose hopes of an easy robbery last night were thwarted by an unlocked safe that contained nothing of value.

Just as J. G. Lang of 2341 S. Seneca ave. manager, was leaving the Columbia theater an armed bandit forced him to return to the theater office. Ordered to open the safe, Mr. Lang told the gunman it was unlocked. After a hasty look inside the disappointed bandit walked out after telling Mr. Lang to remain. The manager waited a few moments then reported the incident to police.

SEBRING, Jan. 17.—Reappointment of Frank Timmer as fire chief by Mayor F. M. Howell has been approved by council.

This appointment was held over from the first council meeting of the year.

Tobacco Can Save Youth
From Bullet

Police today were seeking to trace the origin of a bullet which hit Frederick S. Barckhoff Jr., son of City Engineer Barckhoff, as the youth walked along South Lincoln ave., at 9:30 p. m. Thursday.

Although knocked down by the force of the bullet, he was uninjured. A tobacco can in an inside coat pocket saved Barckhoff from possible injury.

The shot tore through the right side of a heavy jacket and another coat hit the tobacco can and passed harmlessly out through his clothing, police said.

The youth told police he heard no shot. Chief Stoffor said the bullet was very likely a "stray."

The incident occurred as Barckhoff reached Perry st., and stopped to light a pipe. Police believe the shot would have struck his right arm had it not been raised to hold the match to his pipe.

Patrolmen George Reash and James Hasey investigated.

450 Workmen Claim They Are Stricken With Lung Disease

(By Associated Press)

GAULEY BRIDGE, W. Va., Jan. 17.—The head of the firm which drilled Hawk's nest tunnel declared today 450 suits filed by workmen who claimed to have contracted silicosis constituted a gigantic "holdup and blackmail."

A congressman claims 476 men died from silicosis contracted while working on the $10,000,000 hydro-electric project.

P. H. Faulconer, president of Rinehart and Dennis, contractors of Charlottesville, Va. said:

Died of Pneumonia

"The story of these silicosis suits have been under cover long enough. Only 48 men died during the work here. I don't know how many had silicosis, but most of them died of pneumonia. And during that epidemic of pneumonia, we had a lower death rate in our construction camps than the rest of this (Fayette) county."

"We paid into the state compensation fund $166,000 but the supreme court of West Virginia ruled that silicosis was not covered in the provisions of the law."

"Since that time we have paid out over $300,000 to the silicosis racket."

"The records show that men brought suits who had never been in this tunnel, and some others who actually were in the tube an hour, according to our workmen's time sheets."

A congressional sub-committee is hearing testimony in Washington on the charge of Representative Vito Marcantonio (R-NY) that besides those who died, 1500 men contracted silicosis and are slowly dying.

The malady, a lung affliction, is caused by breathing particles of silica sand, a large vein of which was drilled through in digging a three-mile tunnel.

Ellsworth, Kenyon
Discovered by British Rescue Ship

By FRANK H. KING
Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A British relief expedition flashed back from the Antarctic today word of the dramatic rescue of Lincoln Ellsworth and Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, long-lost explorers, found alive and well in the frozen wastes of Little America.

After piercing the ice locking the Bay of Whales, a British royal research ship located the American Ellsworth and the Canadian Hollick-Kenyon safely landed there, having exhausted their fuel on a bold projected flight across the south polar regions.

Radio Damaged

The explorers' long silence was due to a damaged radio transmitter, the British government's colonial office announced.

A landing party from the Discovery II finally found them comfortably ensconced on the fuce of the great ice barrier.

Not since they took off Nov. 23 from Dundee island, far south of Cape Horn, across the south polar regions for the Ross sea, south of New Zealand, had any word been received from the daring fliers. Hope for their safety was fading—even abandoned by some.

A terse, seven-word message from the master of the Discovery II ended this morning the seven weeks of anxiety.

"Ellsworth and Kenyon are both alive and well," said this message to the colonial office, headquarters of the committee directing the discovery's work.

Describe Finding

The colonial office later received a graphic, complete message from the master of the Discovery II describing the finding of the men.

"On first arrival in the Bay of Whales, an orange colored (cloth) with a tent was observed on the barrier face," the descriptive message reported.

"A rocket fired from the ship was not answered. A moth (plane) flew to Little America, five miles distant. Kenyon emerged. A food parachute was dropped with letters."

"Kenyon advanced and met the ship's party. He was received on board at 12:55 a. m., Jan. 16. He reported Ellsworth alive but suffering from a slight cold."

"The ship's party is advancing to meet Ellsworth."

"The American airmen state they ran out of fuel 20 miles from Little America, on a bearing of 165 degrees, and sledged in."

"Kenyon is very fit."

"A transmitter switch caused the radio failure."

Eighteen hours earlier, a partly garbled message had been received from the Discovery II, indicating the two fliers had been found.

It was while trying to confirm that message that the colonial office finally received its two-fold reports that Ellsworth and Hollick-Kenyon were safe.

"Thar's Gold In Them Thar" Roads
On McKinley Farm

LISBON, Jan. 17.—"There's gold in them thar roads in the vicinity of the old McKinley homestead near Logtown, now owned by the Columbiana county council, Boy Scouts."

Recently a $5 gold piece bearing the date of 1849, of which, it is said, few pieces exist.

The coin Thomas found is about half the size of a current 10-cent piece, and rather thin. The words, "Souverain of Sacramento," appears over the head of an Indian, and under the head is the numeral, "1849."

On the reverse side of the coin is the inscription, "California Gold," and in the center of the gold piece is the numeral "14." At the base of the reverse side of the coin is an impression of a bear.

PLAYING ROUGH

Practical politics at its best is none too good. At its worst, it can be—and is—the world's roughest sport.

Every current discussion of politics eventually brings up the probability that the United States will see practical politics at its worst during the presidential campaign. For the most part anticipation is based on the theory that all campaigns in which there is a sharp difference of opinion between opposing factions necessarily must be bitter.

Recently there has been added to mere anticipation of bitterness tangible proof that politicians are going to play rough. The Roosevelt administration has given warning that it will use federal taxing authority against its opponents. By questioning 1929 income tax reports of John J. Raabok, estranged financial sponsor of the Democratic party, it has given its critics, particularly its wealthy ones, something to think about.

Obviously, the government can pester them relentlessly if it chooses to do so. Everything depends on how rough the Democratic administration thinks it can afford to be. There is, fortunately, a point where investigation becomes persecution, even when a millionaire's income tax is the object of questioning. Any time the general public begins to suspect that the power of government is being used too unscrupulously for partisan purposes, investigations to embarrass political opponents become boomerangs. The practical politicians shouldn't be forgetting that interesting and important possibility.

TRAGEDY IN SILICA DUST

The country is appalled at the tragedy being described by witnesses before a house of representatives committee investigating construction of a water diversion tunnel near Gauley Bridge, W. Va. It is alleged that as many as 476 workers have died as the result of breathing silica dust and that 1,500 others face death from the same cause. The tunnel was dug for the New Kanawha Power Co. by the Rhehart and Dennis Co., tunnel contractors.

Did the construction company which employed the men know the danger? If so, why weren't the men furnished with adequate protection? If protection was impossible, why was the project continued? What is the usual practice in tunnel-digging where extensive silica deposits are a factor in operations? Who is responsible for what seems to be one of the greatest examples of negligence in history?

These are the dominant questions. They are the questions which the house committee should try to answer. It is not fitting to reach conclusions before all witnesses have been heard. If the committee's members can keep their sense of balance and refrain from grinding axes which have no direct bearing on the subject under investigation, they will earn the sincere gratitude of the American public.

TIME AND DEATH

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, under sentence of death for the murder of the Lindbergh baby, will get little if any satisfaction from the 30 day reprieve granted by New Jersey's Gov. Hoffman. Death for the crime of which he has been convicted is as certain as anything can be, even though legal complications do arise to confuse the case. Time is precious to a condemned man, to be sure, but surely the agony of waiting to die is greater than that of death itself.

In the case of Hauptmann it is the officials responsible for justice who set the highest price on time. Gov. Hoffman obviously is uncertain; he does not want to risk the execution of New Jersey's notorious prisoner until he is satisfied completely that the Lindbergh tragedy can be closed by pulling an electric switch in the execution chamber.

Hauptmann is helpless. Unless new evidence is produced, society will get the revenge it demands. The time to get the evidence is before Hauptmann's execution, not after it is too late.

THE STARS SAY

For Saturday, January 18

According to the lunar transits, this should be a fairly lively day, with some good news that may be turned to excellent account in the way of profit as well as pleasure. It is wise to deal with big business, mergers or secret societies. But in the signing of all manner of writings there is need for precaution. The domestic, social and romantic relations also will be lively and pleasant.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very lively and pleasant year, with some good news lending an unexpected prosperity and happiness. It is profitable to deal with large interests and influential personages, especially in subtle agreements or with secret societies. But in all be alert to possibilities of misunderstandings or fraud. Sign all writings cautiously. Happy personal contacts are seen.

A child born on this day may be clever, shrewd and ambitious. It should make a pleasant and successful life for itself.

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Thoughts while strolling: Dandy model for a bored man about town: William Rhineland Stewart. Peggy Fears' long strides. William Lyon Phelps is the only critic who reviews all shows at matinees. The newest literary Dreiser—Thomas Wolfe.

Sleighbell names: Carmelita, Geraghty, Vivian Samuels, and Mary Pickford bear a resemblance. Roy McCordell's owlish expression. And a wise old bird. Harold Ross makes a cigaret vanish in furious quick puffs. Almost like Cardini. Jo Davidson suggests the left Smith Brother gone continental.

All a novelist has to do to win me is to begin something like this: "A lurch and the Orient Express was off into the foggy night!" What became of Courtney Burr? Someone is going to star Stella Adler in a crack play and lead the life of Riley. Helen Hayes triumphs again.

A grown up cartoon Henry: Joe Laurie, Jr. Not long ago Cubans were the town's biggest spenders. Memorable Crosby cartoon: A dejected Skipper on a curb with an empty dog collar, musing: "I'll bet god ain't treatin' him any better than I did!" Cole Porter in a periwig would be a ringer for Samuel Pepys.

Add tiresome chestnuts: Stories of the ill-omened Hope diamond. Those dapper, swarthy boys with big blondes and big cigars in the chop houses. Tom Yawkey fits a mental picture of a rich, young sportsman. And if anyone looks more the capitalist than Charles Schwab, I've never seen him.

Few actors in a new role faced the tough assignment of George Jessel in what turned out a much-talked-about night club experiment a few weeks ago. While Jessel has always been nimble on his banquet feet, this wandering from table-to-table intimacy was something else again. A thoroughgoing Broadwayite, primed to swap sallies at Lindy's, he was on the other side of Park avenue and up to his white tie in swells. A minkily monocled crowd out to cheer Elsa Maxwell, top drawer clowness billed high over Jessel. He started off patently scared stiff and had turned the sickly white of a flounder's belly. A dismal beginning, but he soon had the ermined elegantes eating smack out of his hand. It was magnificent going against heavy odds.

Rube Goldberg has added still another talent to his surprising string—radio broadcasting. His versatility includes cartooning, sports writing, vaudeville acting, movie shorts, magazine articles, after-dinner speaking and lecturing. Goldberg was the first cartoonist to sport an automobile and first of his guild to acquire a town house in the metropolis.

A favorite sentimental Broadway legend concerns the last days of Charles Dillingham. Almost throughout his theatrical career he maintained an apartment at the Astor. It was more his home than his upper East Side mansion or Palm Beach villa and was in the center of the world he loved. His cronies lunched there and his Globe theater was only a few steps away. When, almost overnight, he lost everything he decided he would have to give up his hotel quarters. His faithful valet was that very evening packing and the distressed producer had informed the hotel of his intention. A bell boy brought a note. It read: "This memorandum is to notify you that you cannot move your things from this hotel. This is your home as long as you live and anything you wish is yours. Any other procedure would wound us deeply—The Management."

Not many couples in the metropolis give as many formal dinners as the Frank Vance Storrs. Scarcely an evening they are not hostess and host to spreads for from a half dozen to 20 guests. Their dining-out patronage is reputedly largest in the city, averaging around $50,000 yearly. The Storrs fortune was incubated in control of theater programs and the advertising therein.

David Wark Griffith, someone tells me, was in triumphant days a most generous luncheon host. He liked a dozen or more around. So did Victor Herbert. Lillian Russell was known for her elaborate breakfasts to sisters of the stage.

An article on cooking: "There are 100 versions of apple pie." Out yonder we had only three—open faced, cross-barred and kivered.

The decoration of the Globe auditorium for the second annual automobile show this week has been started. The show is sponsored by the Salem Auto Dealers association.

A cold wave spreading over the country hit Salem last night, bringing the first zero weather of the year. Thomas A. Boyle and sister, Miss Mary Lee Boyle, returned to Cleveland Sunday after visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle of Columbia st.

This is a great country. The Department of Justice is trying to prove that crime doesn't pay—and the Treasury Department is suing our more successful criminals for back income taxes.—Judge.

Pleurisy

Recently I told you about "emphysema." This is a condition marked by dilation of the air sacs of the lungs. Today, I want to tell you about another disturbance of the lung which is sometimes confused with emphysema. It is called "pleurisy."

Emphysema is an accumulation of pus in the pleural cavity, the chest cavity. The pleura is a thin and delicate membrane that covers the lungs and lines the chest. The right and left pleural cavities are distinct and separate from each other.

This slippery membrane facilitates the movements of the lungs, permitting them to move without friction. It protects them from injury as well. As a rule the pleural guards against germs. But occasionally, when germs are of a strong strain, they reach the pleural membrane, irritate it, and perhaps severe inflammation of the pleura results. This creates a condition called "pleurisy."

Pleurisy may follow any infection of the chest or upper part of the breathing apparatus. It is a common complication of the simple cold, bronchitis and pneumonia. Pus-producing germs are those which produce emphysema.

Symptoms of Disease
At the onset of the disease the sufferer complains of pain in the chest and difficulty in breathing. The pain increases in severity and may be so great as to prevent sleep and rest. Sometimes, indeed, it becomes necessary to give the patient an opiate.

Other symptoms are chill, followed by fever, sweating and dry cough. As a rule the fever drops within 24 hours, but soon rises again. This fluctuation in temperature continues for several days. This "septic curve," as the doctors call it, is an important sign in the diagnosis of the disease.

Emphysema may be difficult to recognize. In doubtful cases it is advisable to have an x-ray taken. This will reveal whether or not any pus is present in the chest cavity. Unfortunately, the x-ray is not always available.

Another method of diagnosis, and treatment, too, is to "tap" the chest for pus. This is a simple procedure and need cause no alarm. A local anesthetic is used and in this way no pain or discomfort is felt. If no pus is obtained it does not prove positively that emphysema is not present. Sometimes the penetrating needle may miss the infected area.

Hospital Care Best
In every case of emphysema it is best to have the patient removed to a hospital. Here constant care can be given to promote the comfort of the patient, and to hasten recovery. If progress is not satisfactory, it is sometimes necessary to have the accumulated pus removed by surgical measures. On this account the hospital is the place for treatment by your own physician.

If operation is advised do not delay. Bear in mind that neglect of emphysema leads to further spread of the pus. It is amazing to see how quickly the patient recovers after this operation. He is entirely relieved of pain. Breathing is no longer difficult. He is assured of speedy and complete recovery.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send addressed stamped envelopes with their questions. All inquiries should be addressed to him in care of this newspaper.

COLD? Do These 2 Things Instantly!

A Simple Method that Anyone can Follow

1. Take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Make sure you get the BAYER Tablets you ask for.

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

The moment you feel a cold coming on follow the pictured directions above.

Your doctor will approve this as perhaps the quickest, easiest way known to fight colds and sore throat.

The Bayer Aspirin taken internally will combat a cold almost instantly; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth. When you buy, though, see that you get quick-dissolving, real Bayer Aspirin tablets. Watch out for this.

A Review of the Day's News

By Arthur Brisbane

If YOU have a "little woman" who likes jewelry, she will be interested in the "Star of Artaban" now here for sale. It is a sapphire weighing 320 carats, and weighed 1,000 carats before it was cut. When a native found it in the sapphire-bearing hills of Ceylon. He got less for it than the New York owners will get—the old story of the middle man.

This star sapphire, with six rays shooting out from the center, about the size of a hen's egg, will emphasize the good looks of some young lady in Hollywood, where it will be sold. It was named for Artaban, who gave this precious gem to the infant Jesus, "a sapphire for truth, a ruby for love, and a pearl for purity."

Money still exists in the United States. Executors of the late Mrs. S. Rockefeller McCormick, yes—said her emerald necklace weighed $480,000. One emerald weighed 100 carats.

Big New York City also has money. It discovers that various ways for the benefit of the unemployed and need, will actually produce in 1936, $5,000,000 more than the sum required. This country of resources unlimited will become rich, when those that possess special ability again are encouraged to make it productive.

Washington believes that congress this time will pass the bonus bill, even if vetoed, and give $518,191 per man the two billion dollars promised them.

To pay these men when they need most, instead of paying it later, creates some financiers. Others think that for a country already in debt $5 or $6 billion dollars, two billions extra would make little difference, especially as the money would be spent all over the United States, and spent usefully.

The Japanese abandon the naval conference in London, "leave it flat," they walked in, listened, turned round and walked out. Japan now exactly what she wants, and says everybody knows. Japan is content that she has the right to equate her own navy to suit her desire.

Perhaps this country will acquire an impression after a few more conferences with the Japanese desire.

The Far Eastern Institute of Pacific Relations, discovers that sanctions against Japan, a boycott, could bring disaster to the Japanese people. Japan imports 90 per cent of her oil, has not enough to supply her navy. But the same Nations watches Japan allowing China, in sections, doing nothing about sanctions, possibly because the league knows that in return would do something about the sanctions and do energetically.

England, ruling the league, wants violent upset in Asia.

The average housewife will be interested in the big sapphire in news that the agricultural mages, of Cornell have developed "wordless" cabbage that cooks innocently as a potato. Cornell farmers expect to have enough to go around in about two years.

The cabbage dates back farther than man. It used to be a wild growing on the edge of the forest. Its vitamins are valuable as can digest it.

Government proposes to push production of houses costing less than $5,000 to help the 90 per cent of the people whose incomes are less than $2,500 a year. Such houses would help those who have money and own land; it would help those who have no money and no land.

6-priced, ready-built houses become as popular as ready automobiles and more numerous. To get an automobile you had the half a dozen contractors.

buy the different materials, and put them together yourself, how many automobiles would be running?

Good news for one is good news for all. Gerard Swope, head of General Electric Co., shows that orders increased about $34,000,000 in 1935 compared with 1934.

In such a country as this business and prosperity are bound to creep up eventually. No ingenuity can prevent it.

Columbiana Legion To Sponsor Contest

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 17.—Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion, will again sponsor an essay contest for pupils of junior and senior high school.

Last year Ruth Newell, local high school girl, then a junior, was one of six winners to get a free trip to Washington, D. C., as guests of the legion.

This year there will be 12 winners in the state contest. D. H. Hepburn is in charge of local arrangements. The contest rules have been presented to the school pupils here by Supt. C. B. Rieggle.

The local post will hold the annual Washington's Birthday dinner on Monday evening, Feb. 24. Rev. D. S. Lamb and L. E. Holloway have been appointed by Post Commander S. R. Lindsay to have charge of the affair.

Play Cage Games

Basketball games are being played in Columbiana High school by both boys and girls. The games are played each Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 for several successive weeks, two boys' games and two girls' games being played each week.

The squads, composed of 10 boys and 10 girls from each class, are captained as follows: Seniors: Carl Miller and Ethel Rohrer; Juniors: Bob Miller and Eloise Raesh; Sophomores: Virgil Hoover and Martha Smith; Freshmen: John Bell and Mildred Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Meiser are residing in the Miss Dora Imman property, Duquesne st. They formerly resided with their son, Ross Meiser, and family, south of Columbiana.

A sales tax examiner will be at Thomas's store Jan. 27 to 29, to assist sales tax vendors with their reports.

Mrs. Votaw Hostess At Class Meet

"Women of the New Testament" was the theme of the program at the meeting of the Bethlehem class of the Methodist church yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Votaw on North Lincoln ave.

Mrs. W. M. Stewart had a short talk on "Magdalene," followed by one on "Herodias" given by Mrs. W. H. Matthews. Mrs. Amos Entin gave an account of the story of "Martha" and Mrs. T. W. Small, "Elizabeth." Mrs. A. C. Prethy had a paper, "Facts Concerning the Bible" as the concluding feature of the program.

After the meeting the group had a lunch, served by Mrs. Votaw and her associate hostesses, Mrs. George Kleinkurt and Mrs. W. H. Matthews.

The next meeting will be Feb. 20 and at that time a covered dinner will be served by the leading group in a class membership contest now being conducted.

Gurney Missionary Society Meets

Members of the Women's Missionary society enjoyed an all-day meeting and quilting party Thursday at the parsonage of the Winona Gurney Friends church. The quilt which the members worked on yesterday was a gift from them to Rev. Lydia Brantingham, pastor of the church.

The meeting followed a dinner at noon. Rev. Brantingham presiding. Mrs. George Megraill was in charge of the devotions. Mrs. Mary Whitacre gave two readings, "Christ Loved Love" and "The Emman Way." Miss Roxie Zeppnick had a reading, "God Answered a Mother's Prayer." Mrs. Isaac Barber talked on "Real Liquor Control" and Mrs. Wetherell Hutton gave a talk on the work of the Wilbur Friends at the Indian school at Tunasassa, N. Y.

Mrs. George Megraill presented a chapter from the study book, "Sam Morris, the African Boy." Mrs. Brantingham had an article, "Chart and Compass," which was followed by a letter written by Walter Williams, a missionary on his way from China to India, read by Mrs. Ida L. Stratton.

Next month's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Whitacre.

Duplicate Bridge Players Meet

Duplicate bridge players assembled at the Memorial building Thursday evening for the first time since the holidays, with eight and a half tables in play during the session.

North and South players who placed were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hostetter, first, with a score of 107; Dr. L. W. King and Joseph Kelley, 99½; Mrs. Vincent Judge and Walter Strain, 96½; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cox, 94½. East and West high scorers were Mrs. Fred Crowe and Mrs. Joseph Kelley, who were first with a score of 102; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirkbride, 100½; Miss Olive Ramsey and Paul Snyder, 87; Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Holzbach, 85½.

The next session will be Jan. 30.

English Lutheran Fete Planned

All Ladies of the English Lutheran church are invited to attend a covered supper at 6 p. m. Monday at the church to be given by members of the Lydia Bible class as a courtesy to Mrs. C. W. Moul of Detroit, who is visiting here. Mrs. Moul was formerly of Salem and a member of the church.

The affair Monday evening will take the place of the regular meeting of the Lydia Bible class, which was scheduled for Jan. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jewell and two daughters have returned to their home in Cleveland. They were called here by the death of his sister, Mrs. Vera J. Bucey.

THESE FACTS ABOUT BRAN HAVE BEEN PROVED BY TESTS

Supplies Gently Acting "Bulk" to Aid Regular Habits

Now and then, in talking with your friends, the subject of bran has come up. So that real facts might replace unsupported opinions, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading nutrition laboratories.

Studies made on a group of healthy women showed that two tablespoonsful of bran daily continued to relieve constipation over a period of months. How different from cathartics—where dosage often must be increased.

Another series of tests on men indicated that, with some people, the "bulk" in bran was much more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Further tests showed that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provided vitamin B and iron as well as "bulk." This "bulk" absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system—the right way to correct constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal, with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. It is a natural laxative food. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

Harriet Watt Guild Has Benefit

Mrs. Ann Farmer and Mrs. Harold Hise were associate hostesses last evening at the benefit card party for the Church of Our Saviour given by ladies of the Harriet Watt guild at the home of Mrs. C. E. Greenamyer on Aetna st.

Fifteen tables were in play during the evening, guests playing bridge, "500" and keno. Miss Gertrude Hurst and Paul Probert won the bridge trophies. Miss Charlotte Probert and John Coffee, the "500," and Mrs. Jack Vincent, the keno prize.

The hostesses served a lunch after the card games.

Millville Club Has Program

Mrs. Thomas Howells and Roy Zimmerman were in charge of the meeting of the Millville Community club last night at the schoolhouse.

An enjoyable program was presented, opening with a xylophone solo by Miss Marie Callahan. Mary Louise Emery played a piano selection and Fern Zimmerman entertained with a reading. Miss Callahan offered a vocal number, which was followed by a reading by Roy Zimmerman and another xylophone solo by Miss Callahan.

The club will meet again Feb. 20 when Mrs. Lillian Greenamyer and George Orr will be in charge.

Mrs. Pearl Nusbaum Club Hostess

Mrs. Pearl Nusbaum entertained associates of the Just Right club Thursday afternoon at her home on West Fifth st. After a short business meeting the group enjoyed a social afternoon and the hostess served a lunch.

On Jan. 28 the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Dahike on the Damascus rd. A covered dinner and handkerchief shower for Mrs. Dahike in honor of her birthday anniversary are scheduled for that time.

Low Fire Record

EAST LIVERPOOL, Jan. 17.—East Liverpool's fire loss during 1935 totaled $6,804 on buildings and contents—one of the lowest records in recent years—it was revealed in the 19th annual report submitted by Chief Thomas Bryan to Mayor O. Earl Greenwald and Service-Safety Director E. B. Laughlin today.

Today's Pattern

"You look pounds thinner!" your club associates will exclaim, practically in unison, when you wear this slenderizing frock for the first time. And indeed, it's been so carefully styled that a forty-eight can look proportionately as slender as a thirty-four. You've a deep V neckline, a smooth fitting over-the-shoulder yoke, and a height-giving center skirt panel to carry out the slimming effect, while a soft bow is as concealing as it is feminine. It's a frock you'll enjoy entertaining in, enjoy for restaurant dining, club meetings or church functions the season through, and one that carries over nicely into Spring. Make it up in flat crepe or triple sheer.

Pattern 2651 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 4 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Be sure to order our spring pattern book for smart new clothes that'll fit you and your needs to a "T." Gay practical frocks to cheer you at work. Lovely party frocks and sports clothes to flatter you at play. Collars, blouses, skirts for multiplying costumes. Chic slenderizing styles. Patterns for tots. Fabric and accessory news. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and a pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Address orders to Salem News Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

ESKIMO DOESN'T CRAVE ROMANCE

He Prefers Wife Who Is Able To Do Plenty Of Work

Daughters are more or less a drug on the market. Too many are unwelcome. The women's chief purposes, apparently, are to work and serve as a means of perpetuation of the race.

Divorce? Yes, says Dr. Garber. If the wife does too much nagging, divorce is as simple as opening the igloo door and gently or otherwise ushering the "Missus" out into the air. However, children change the complexion of things. Mr. Eskimo will stand much nagging and Ma Eskimo much abuse where children bless the union.

And crime, too. A daring young Eskimo may covet his neighbor's wife. In this event, he takes her. And the distraught husband usually pays him a visit, accompanied by a sharp knife. This is generally followed by a family feud.

Take Law In Own Hands

They have their own conceptions of law at times. Dr. Garber recalled a case where a couple of youngsters got into trouble and the missionary teacher threatened to have them put in jail. The boys were mortally frightened. They arrived at the conclusion that the best way out of the trouble was to shoot the teacher and, they reasoned, that would solve the difficulty. They did, with a whaling gun.

The boys' relatives protested. So strongly, in fact, that the father of one, and the uncle of the other, tracked the fleeing lads 30 miles, brought them back and shot them.

There are few bachelors. There's no need of living in single blessedness, Dr. Garber revealed. Sometimes, one woman may serve as many as three masters. There are many boots and clothes to be manufactured, much work to be done. It's not a matter of romance, Dr. Garber repeated. It's just an economic need. Licentiousness, he added, was unknown to these people until it was introduced by the white race.

Although the Eskimos appear to be holding their own in the matter of population, their length of life is not marked. They live on an average of 55 years or so. The rigors, the hazards and the work connected with existence in their sphere take their toll.

Sanitation Chief Need

Responding to questions from his hearers at the end of his talk, Dr. Garber indicated that education is not the outstanding need of the people. Enough education to enable them to do their trading is sufficient, he said, but emphasized the fact that there is a crying need for hygiene and sanitation.

Dr. Garber spoke for almost two hours before High school students yesterday morning. He was presented at the Kiwanis club meeting by Earl S. Kerr, superintendent of schools.

Among the club guests were members of a High school orchestra sextet, directed by Mrs. E. Satterthwaite, substitute supervisor of music in the public schools, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Ber. The sextet included Miss R. Cornwall, John Evans, LeRoy M. Joseph Pales, Glen Swanson, Wallace Luce. Mrs. Satterthwaite also presented a violin solo.

Appropriately enough, a very dinner was served the club. Venison was supplied by E. A. Lehart, High school instructor, the result of a recent Canadian hunting trip.

Gov. Hoffman's 30-Day Reprieve Spurs Efforts Of Attorneys

ownership, are independent politically.
 Assemblyman Crawford Jamieson, Trenton Democrat, announced in December he would seek a legislative investigation of Hoffman's death house interview with Hauptmann. Jamieson, however, withheld information today as to his attitude toward impeachment.
 Hoffman is a Republican. His party controls each branch of the legislature.

"Just a Dream"
 "Just a dream," Hoffman said of the impeachment talk.
 The governor said he would sign the reprieve papers this morning and send them at once to the prison where Hauptmann was to have been electrocuted at 8 o'clock tonight.

The reprieve was addressed "to Bruno Richard Hauptmann" and said:
 "Pursuant to the power and authority vested in me by the constitution of this state, I do hereby grant you a reprieve of the sentence of death heretofore imposed upon you, and to be carried out during the week beginning the twelfth day of January, 1936, to the fifteenth day of February, A. D. 1936."

"I am aware that this action of reprieve may bring much criticism," the governor said, "but after all, my heart, my conscience and my sense of duty impel me to grant this reprieve. Criticism is not important when a man's life is at stake."
 News of the governor's decision to spare Hauptmann's life for a short time spread so quickly that by the time Hauptmann's lawyers arrived at the state prison two miles from the statehouse, a crowd of 1,000 persons had gathered.

The prison population, learning what happened over the prison "grapevine," took up the cry: "Hauptmann! Hauptmann! reprieve! reprieve!" the prisoners naturally were for him.
 Of all those behind the sombre brownstone walls, Hauptmann appeared most calm.
 "He was deeply and humanly touched," said Attorney Fisher, who took the news to him. "He said he had felt all day that something would happen—that somebody would step forward—to prove his innocence."

Mrs. Hauptmann, learning of the first break in her husband's favor in six months, cried and murmured:
 "God be thanked!"
 When she had composed herself and hugged her 3-year-old son Manfred, she said:
 "That is wonderful. Now my only wish is that the real truth of the terrible Lindbergh kidnapping will come out, that the terrible people who did this thing will either come before the governor or be caught."

She asked later yesterday to see her husband, with whom she had talked in the morning for what might have been the last time. Her request was refused.

 Just before she visited the death house yesterday morning, she and the governor conferred privately, but both denied any mention of a reprieve was made or that the governor told her to ask her husband for a confession.

Insists He Knows Nothing
 "He couldn't have asked that," Mrs. Hauptmann said, "because he knows Richard has nothing to confess."

The actual time Hauptmann will live beyond his scheduled execution date, while technically set at 30 days, will be much longer.

At the expiration of 30 days, barring developments in Hauptmann's favor, the attorney-general will ask Justice Trenchard to fix a new date of execution. This date may be not less than four nor more than eight weeks after the judge acts.

This would bring the new execution date to some week between mid-March and mid-April, more than four years after the crime was committed. The earliest date possible for execution is March 16, the latest April 11.

Attorney-General Wilentz, who prosecuted Hauptmann and who is on the opposite side of the political fence from Governor Hoffman, has consistently held that the governor lacked legal right to issue a reprieve, the time limit of 90 days from the date of conviction having passed.

MRS. FRANCES WATSON

NEGLEY, Jan. 17.—The funeral service will be held here this afternoon for Mrs. Frances Billingsley Watson, 87, pioneer resident of Middleton township, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Hacker here Wednesday.

Rev. W. M. Freer, pastor of the Negley M. E. church was in charge of the service. Burial was in Glenview cemetery at East Palestine.

Mrs. Watson was born in Middleton township, on Oct. 9, 1848, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Billingsley. She taught school in East Palestine when the school building consisted of two rooms. She attended the founding of the old Burt Methodist Episcopal church near Negley. She was the last member of a family of nine girls.

Mrs. Watson was an active member of the Negley Methodist Episcopal church until a few years ago. Besides Mrs. Hacker she leaves five other daughters, Mrs. I. P. Booth of Mahoningtown, Pa., Mrs. W. C. Miller of Negley, Mrs. James Atchison, Mrs. A. C. Davis and Mrs. John Hutter all of East Palestine; also seven grand children and five great grand children. Her husband died Aug. 6, 1934.

MRS. JOHN FULLUM

Mrs. Esther Fullum, 32, wife of John Fullum, died at 4 p. m. Thursday at her home, 241 West Pershing st., after a few days' illness of diphtheria.

Mrs. Fullum was born in Salem and lived here all her life. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Kring and was a member of the Christian church.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, John, Jr., and Robert at home; her father, G. L. Kring; two sisters, Miss Eva Kring at home and Mrs. Helen Theodakis of Buffalo; one brother, William Kring of Salem.

Funeral service was held at 4 this afternoon in charge of Rev. C. F. Evans. Burial was in Hope cemetery. There was a short service at the cemetery.

HENRY SHEEN FUNERAL

Funeral service for Henry Sheen, 29, who was killed accidentally at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant Tuesday morning, was held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Arbuthnot funeral home on East State st. Rev. C. F. Evans had charge of the service. Burial was in Hope cemetery.

WILLIAM MARVIN BUSH

William Marvin Bush, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bush of 287 North Howard st., died at 2:30 this morning at his home. Funeral service will be conducted at the home by Rev. A. C. Westphal, pastor of the Baptist church, at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Hope cemetery.

AMOS WEBER

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 17.—Amos Weber, 71, emphysemic for 30 years at the Firestone farm, died Thursday in his home on State route 14, east of here.

Weber, born in Brazil, Switzerland, Jan. 23, 1835, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Weber, came here 38 years ago from Pittsburgh.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rosalie Weber; six sons, Walter E., Unity, Edward O., Columbian; Harvey J., East Fairfield, and Otto, Ralph and Wilbur, at home; five daughters, Mrs. James Sensabaugh and Mrs. William Sensabaugh of Columbian, and Olive, Helen and Esther, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Schneider of Stockland, Cal.

The funeral service will be held in the home at 2 p. m. Saturday in charge of Rev. A. S. Glessner, pastor of the Grace Reformed church. Burial will be in the Columbian cemetery.

Washingtonville M.E. Class Members Miss Bell's Guests

WASHINGTONVILLE, Jan. 17.—The Junior class of the Methodist Sunday school, taught by Mrs. Leslie Tingle, was entertained on Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Ruth Bell. Miss Audrey Herman was a guest. The meeting was in charge of the president, Louise Cox.

Following the business session, contests were enjoyed with prizes won by Phyllis Ritchie, Audrey Herman and Bernice Weikart. The hostess, assisted by Louise Cox, served lunch. The next meeting will be held in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Tingle on Feb. 13, with a Valentine exchange.

Sunday Guests
Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. August Vignone of Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hildebrandt and Paul Vignone of Salem, were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Rasmussen.

Mrs. Charles Grindle underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Salem City hospital on Wednesday.

Wayne Jackson and family have moved into the Joseph Thorpe property on Main st. recently vacated by Joseph Fast, Jr., who moved to Salem.

The following announcements have been made by LeRoy C. Henne, pastor of the Methodist church, Sunday, 9:45 a. m., Church school, Harold Rohrer, Supr.; 11 a. m., morning worship; Monday, 4 p. m., Preparatory Membership class will meet at the church. There is still opportunity for any others who want to come to this class.

Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., Aldersgate class meeting. This meeting is open to all who care to come. Friday, 4 p. m., choir rehearsal at the church.

Mrs. McNeal Hostess
Mrs. H. L. McNeal entertained members of the Fortnightly club in her home on Thursday evening. Cards entertained with honors won by Miss Myrtle Baker and Mrs. C. A. Stouffer. Lunch was served. In two weeks on Wednesday evening the club will be entertained in the home of Mrs. H. L. McNeal.

LONDON—A 5-year-old boy who will not grow up is in the National Hospital for Disease of the Nervous System at Bloomsbury. His trouble is dwarfing of the pituitary gland.

Theater Attractions

"King of Burlesque" comes to the State theater Friday and Saturday, a good time talkie with a large list of stars that includes Warner Baxter in the title role, Alice Faye, Arline Judge, Jack Oakie and Mona Barrie.

Others in the cast are "Fats" Waller, Negro piano player, Nick Long, Jr., and Dixie Dunbar, well known dancers.

Jack Oakie is the bright spot in the show with Arline Judge in constant pursuit of him. Baxter, as the producer of a burlesque, makes a great deal of money with a hit show, of which Alice Faye is the star. With his money, Baxter wants only one thing, a place in society. Coming from New York's east side, he longs for the social prestige he believes his money can bring him. He falls in love with Mona Barrie, a socialite and married woman.

Loves Everything
His productions suffer, due to the wife's influence, and he loses all his money in a show that is a flop. In the meantime his old friend Alice Faye has gone to the top in a show in London.

She learns Baxter has lost everything, wife position and money. She influences a friend to pose as the benefactor and with her money puts Baxter on his feet again. He produces a show that is a huge success and finds that his old pals are the real friends.

Nick Long, Jr., one critic says, "quite eclipses" Fred Astaire in point of talent but not personality. "Fats" Waller is featured at the piano with his wild jazz rhythm, and is the "high spot" of the show.

Wellsville Arrests 50 In Traffic Drive

WELLSVILLE, Jan. 17.—Wellsville police, under an order issued by Mayor Howard L. Kelley, today renewed their drive against automobile and truck speed which endangers other traffic and pedestrians.

Mayor Kelley said "we have arrested and fined about 50 drivers since the campaign started early in the month and we intend to continue the drive."

Wellsville Council Plans Beer Measure

WELLSVILLE, Jan. 17.—Wellsville council is expected to enact a closing hour ordinance governing beer places at next Tuesday night's session, city officials said today.

Legislation, which will restrict the period for the sale of liquor and high powered brew, will be prepared by Solicitor James L. MacDonald.

Ex-Sheriff Denies Protection Charges

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—Former Sheriff Ray Potts of Summit county took the witness stand today in federal court and denied that he collected tribute from a wholesale list of bootleggers in return for protection.

Trial of Potts and nine other men from the Akron district on charges of conspiracy to violate internal revenue laws neared its close today.

Alliance Y.M.C.A. Enjoys Good Season

ALLIANCE, Jan. 17.—Despite an enforced retrenchment program made necessary by a big shortage in operating funds during 1935, the Y. M. C. A. carried on a program of boys' work that equaled that of any previous year in its history.

This fact was made known by C. R. Bearmore, general secretary, in his annual report.

Benefit Play Boosts Sebring Rotary Fund

SEBRING, Jan. 17.—Sebring Rotary club grossed $285 on the play it sponsored recently for its crippled children's fund, members were informed at this week's meeting. Of the proceeds, 40 percent was turned over to the high school as its share for staging the production through facilities of the dramatic club.

Principal speaker at the meeting was Rev. H. H. Scott, pastor of the Boardman Methodist church. He discussed the "Better Side of England", paying special attention to sections of London.

Retain Acting Dean

ALLIANCE, Jan. 17.—Dr. W. M. Morgan will continue as acting dean following the death of Dean J. B. Bowman. Dr. Morgan probably will retain his temporary appointment for the remainder of this semester and next semester. President W. H. McMaster of Mount Union college said today.

Joe Louis Gets First Test Of 1936 Against Retzlaff Tonight

Fight Gives Bomber Chance to Add More Money To Bank Roll

20,000 People Expected to Watch Bout; All Will Be Hoping That Retzlaff Throws Punches From The Start of the Battle

By WILLIAM WEEKES, Associated Press Sports Writer.
CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Joe Louis, man of the hour in the fight business tonight with Charley Retzlaff, latest of the heavyweights to make him a battle.

The spectacular Detroit negro whose explosive fists have blasted a new vein of huge "gates," and the 28-year-old North Dakota fighter, will go to work in the Chicago stadium for what is scheduled as a 15-round battle. The test, if it amounts to that, will be the Brown Bomber's first in 1936.

Indications today were that 20,000 spectators will see the bout. All of them will be hoping that Retzlaff adheres to his promise to throw punches from the start. Most of them will be expecting to see Louis, who is 10 choice with virtually no Retzlaff money around, accomplish one of his crushing triumphs.

Of the 20,000 attendance made possible by the gates, the gates receipts will be $100,000, of which the cold-weather negro will receive 40 per cent. The rest will go to the promoter, who also will get a similar cut of the gate. A crowd of 20,000 also is expected to see the fight since the gate. A crowd of 20,000 also is expected to see the fight since the gate.

For Retzlaff, it is a chance to provide an answer to the question of what Louis would do under pressure. It has been so long since anyone got tough with the fighter that it has become almost a tradition that Louis has first scored, and then knocked out his opponent. Retzlaff insists that he will be whipped before he starts.

Testimony that the strapping fighter from the wheat belt has equipment to damage anyone he meets is found in his record. His destructive right hand has accounted for 55 knockouts in 68 fights.

Well Matched
Physically, they are well matched. Louis was expected to weigh at least 200 pounds, but today about 201 pounds, his heaviest for an important battle. Retzlaff, with advantages in height and reach, figured to be outweighed about five pounds at 196.

Changes Asked
The bomber will be aiming at his 27th consecutive professional triumph, and his 23rd knockout.

MOUNT TO PLAY 1ST GAME AWAY

Meets Wooster In Tilt On Wooster Floor Saturday

ALLIANCE, Jan. 17.—Mount Union's basketball team will play its first away-from-home game of the year at Wooster Saturday night. The Methodists completed their opening series of seven home games Wednesday night by defeating Ashland 48 to 33. Mount won five of its first seven games, winning from Youngstown, Ohio university, Case, Akron, and Ashland, and losing to Findlay and Michigan.

In four games since Christmas vacation Mount Union has averaged an even 46 points a game. Their defensive average in those games was 36 points.

Despite the edge which Mount Union holds in past games with Wooster, the Wrightmen may run into plenty of difficulty at Wooster Saturday night. Although Wooster has defeated Mount Union only six times in the last 20 games, Wooster is always considered one of the toughest games on the Purple schedule, and year after year Wooster is the "hardest nut that Mount Union has to crack."

Coach Wright indicated today that he would start his same line-up against Wooster: Evan Schlitz, North Canton, and Eldon Rowland, Alliance, at the forwards; Ed. Wilms, Salem, at center, and Gordon Swope, North Canton, and Melvin Windland, Alliance, at the guards. This is the third season for this combination.

Because of their performances in the last two or three games, Harry Shadle, Norwalk; Tom George, Alliance; Ralph Rice, Malvern, and Willard Weaver, East Liverpool, are expected to see plenty of action at Wooster.

Waver is a six-foot five-inch sophomore, protégé of Wilms. Mount's veteran tip-off man, Weaver has broken into all of the first seven games and hit his stride for the first time against Ashland. Wednesday night when he accounted for five field goals and three free throws.

Heidelberg will turn a bit of Rubber City home talent loose on Akron Zippers tonight. Ralph Hatter and Ray Bowman, Student Prince regulars, learned the game in Akron High schools.

Horsemen in the "know" will tell you that Columbus will have a Grand Circuit meeting this summer at the State fairgrounds. The Grand Circuit chiefs are slated to announce it at their Jan. 27 session in Cleveland.

Ohio State University's athletes face a busy Saturday. The Buck basketball team entertain Iowa, the swimmers are hosts to Cincinnati, and the wrestlers go to Ohio university. The fencers got the jump by meeting Wittenberg's Swordsmen this afternoon.

QUAKER CAGERS MEET ALLIANCE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Aviators Have Lost Six Of Eight Games With Tough Opponents

The Alliance High school Aviators who will face Salem High Quakers at the high school gymnasium in an N. E. O. Big Six league game tonight have lost six of their eight games to date, but in suffering these reverses they have played several of the strongest teams in the district.

Three of the schools holding victories over the Aviators have yet to taste defeat while one has lost only one game in seven engagements. Two others have been defeated but three times.

Unbeaten Opponents
Minerva, which upset Alliance, 15 to 13, in a two overtime period fray at Minerva, has chalked up five straight victories. Akron Buchtel has won six consecutive games and Massillon High's Tigers have also registered six straight victories.

Canton McKinley made the Aviators its sixth straight victim but on the following night was blasted from the unbeaten ranks by Dover. Niles High and Akron North, both winners over Alliance, have broken even in six games.

The Aviators two wins were scored at the expense of Louisville and Cuyahoga Falls. Both of these teams were easy opponents compared to the Aviators other six foes.

Valuable Experience
Against such stiff opposition, Alliance is certain to have gained valuable court experience which should give it somewhat of an edge over the Quakers tonight.

However, to bring the contest to even terms, the Quakers will have the advantage of playing on their own floor.

The first game tonight between the Salem and Alliance reserve teams is scheduled to begin at 7:30 with the varsity contest following at 8:30.

Alliance will again play tomorrow night when it meets Barberston at Alliance. The Magics, who tripped Salem last week, 28 to 23, have lost but one of their eight games so far this season. The Quakers will not play again this week.

London, Eng.—Tommy Farr, 191, Wales, outpointed Tommy Loughran, 191, Philadelphia, (10), Philadelphia—Tony Morgano, 137, Philadelphia, outpointed Johnny Jadick, 140, Philadelphia, (10).

Conservation Council Decides Not To Place Closing Order On Fishing Sportsmen In Northern Ohio Are Said to Favor Closed Season from Jan. 1 to July 1

COLUMBUS, Jan. 17.—While sportsmen in Northern Ohio are generally in favor of a longer closed season on game-fish, some of them believing that fishing should be closed from January 1st to July 1st, the Conservation Council after reviewing the information presented and considering the sentiment expressed following the recent hearing on whether or not there should be a longer closed fishing season in the spring in Ohio waters, has decided that there will be no general closing order this year.

Postponed Games For Salem Saxon Teams Tomorrow

Notified late Thursday that the Ellwood City basketball squad would be unable to make the trip to Salem, Pete Sanders, coach of the Salem Saxon cage teams, announced today that the court contests scheduled for the Memorial building Saturday night have been postponed.

Sanders said that Ellwood City Saxon officials conferred with the manager of the Salem teams yesterday and it was decided to postpone the games.

As originally scheduled, the contests were to be played at Ellwood City but were transferred here at the request of the Pennsylvania teams.

Future playing arrangements have not been made. Although the games are postponed the Junior Saxons will hold their regular date at the Saxons hall from 9 until 12 p. m., Sanders said.

WOOSTER WINS OVER DENISON
Cincinnati, Muskingum, Cedarville Also Win Contests

The cage squads of Muskingum, University of Cincinnati, Wooster and Cedarville held new victories today after battles on Ohio college courts last night.

The Cincinnati five bottled up Dayton's hoopers and put on a brilliant passing exhibition to win 39 to 27. The Bearcats, favorites to cop the Buckeye conference crown, held the Flyers scoreless until the last minute of the first half, which ended 17 to 5 in favor of Cincinnati.

Muskingum, undefeated in the Ohio conference, trailed Ohio U. in the first half but made up the difference and went ahead in the second, winning a score of 34 to 25. Hardern, Muskingum forward, made 17 points. At the half Ohio U. was ahead 19 to 15.

Wooster showed new power in trouncing Denison 50 to 35. The Granville team spurred in the last half and drew up to within nine points of the Scots, but in the rest of the encounter held a comfortable advantage. Halftime score was Wooster 35, Denison 14.

Cedarville and Wilmington were tied at 13-all at the intermission but Cedarville's shooting accuracy decided the issue and Wilmington found itself on the short end of the 30 to 23 final score.

TROJAN TEAMS GAIN TWO WINS IN CAGE GAMES

Class A Quintet Defeats Winona; B Five Wins Over Methodists

The Trojan basketball teams took command of the Memorial building court last night when the Class A quintet defeated Winona, 28 to 23, and the Class B five triumphed over the Methodists, 25 to 23.

In the Class A tilt, which was postponed from Monday night, the Trojan cagers took the lead early in the opening period and held it throughout the contest. Although they were outscored in the last half by Winona, the Trojans coasted to the victory on the big lead they piled up in the first two periods of the game.

The Class B contest was a seesaw affair with the Methodists looking best in the first and last periods and the Trojans performing well in the second and third frames.

Near the close of the game, the score was knotted at 23-all. Tibbs, connected for the field goal which proved the margin of victory.

Baseball Trading Becomes Bull Market From Now On

Colonel Jacob Ruppert Throws Up Hands and Refuses to Pay Prices Asked for Players

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—There may be additional bartering in major league baseball "Ivory" before the boys start ganging up in Florida for the coming season but it's a bull market from now on, with no bargains in sight.

The tip-off today is that Colonel Jacob Ruppert, perhaps the wealthiest owner in the major leagues, has thrown up his hands and refused to pay the prices asked for some outstanding players he would like to add to the New York Yankee 1936 line-up.

Ruppert, whose fortune towers above that of Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox owner and baseball's most conspicuous spendthrift, has paid millions for the players who helped produce pennant-winning clubs in a dozen seasons. The deal for Babe Ruth in 1919 alone involved close to $500,000, including a mortgage on Red Sox property.

Would Go Broke
"It isn't that we are not willing to pay high for what we want," explained the Colonel, "but the other fellows seem to think that I've got a lot of extra money to burn since prohibition ended. Why, I'd go broke if I paid some of the prices they have asked for ball players."

It was assumed the Yankee Colonel referred to the $500,000 asked for Buddy Myer, American league batting champion and infield star, by owner Clark Griffith of the Washington club. Ruppert reportedly declined to pay a proportionately heavy price for Frank (Pinky) Higgins, star third sacker of the Athletics.

Higgins—also Wally Moses, sensational young outfielder of the A's—yet may wind up with the Yankees, but only if Connie Mack compromises on the prices or the Colonel goes the limit.

WIFE IN CUSTODY

by BEATRICE LUBITZ

CHAPTER XXXIX

The winter passed pleasantly for Helen. She was amused at Stella's trip to California where she tried to get into the movies. Someone had told her that she looked like a haughty lady of the films who played society roles and disdained a first name. Helen wasn't sorry to have missed the big scenes that preceded Stella's scheme and the orgies of righteous justification when Stella returned in March unsuccessful in her venture. She came back broke, with a severe cold and several pounds underweight.

"I've lent her the farm at Bound Brook to stay until she recovers," "That was sweet of you, dear," "Ethel and Eddie are going out with her. Ethel wants a vacation from the Salon—she deserves it—and Eddie wants to paint."

"That's an excellent idea," "Agnes is thinking of taking a place near there too so she can use the pool. She's not a bit well. But there in June or July, they'll probably all be back here."

"They needn't rush, dear. I've been talking with Dr. Asche. He favors the seashore for young babies. I've been thinking we'd take a little place at Long Beach for a change. It's so near; you'd be able to commute so much more comfortably," Helen observed placidly.

When it was clear to the others that Helen was going to the ridiculous and unnecessary expense of taking a house at the shore after Walter had spent such a fortune to remodel a country home for her, Anastasia and the nurse were installed at the farmhouse and Agnes and Carl decided it would be cheaper to stay there too.

Business in the Salons was booming. Walter opened two new places, one on Broadway and Fortieth Street and a second one in Brooklyn over the Keith Albee theater on Dekalb Avenue. This was the largest shop of the chain and nearly as elaborate as Anastasia's. Fifty-seventh Street. It was Walter's idea to capture all the Brooklyn beauty parlor trade from this vantage point.

Even Helen was a little apprehensive at this enormous expansion but Walter was so confident of himself that her doubts were never spoken. The Anastasia finger wave swept the country and the Anastasia permanent was the most talked of and successful of the pioneers in the field of permanent waving. The Anastasia bob was a sensation. The Anastasia Salons were rapidly mounting to the peak of their prosperity. Walter worked like a demon. The girls, excepting Irene, of course, not wishing to lose their hold on the business, went back on a part-time basis and made a great show of managing and advising Walter and proving their indispensability by balking his every move and thus making him work doubly hard.

Apropos of asking one day why she never met Dirk a mother's any more evenings, Cecily said inadvertently, "He drops in mornings on his way to business to see mother instead of at night."

"Why, Cec?" Helen asked in surprise.

Cecily, conscious of having let the cat out of the bag, decided to make a clean breast of it.

"He's forced to avoid you. Irene is jealous."

"Oh, Cec! Not jealous of Dirk and me! Why, it's impossible."

"You know how fond of you Dirk is. It must have leaked out that he met you here once in a while and brought you home. In order to spare you any unpleasantness, he comes another time. Irene probably said something. I don't know exactly because Dirk didn't tell me."

"But our friendship—it hurts no one!"

Cecily grimaced. "Explain that to my sister-in-law—if you can!"

Summer found Irene installed in her beloved and fashionable Greenwich. Helen found a pink stucco villa at Long Beach that was an assault to the eye but it had three bathrooms, a terrace and was half a block from the ocean. The rest of the Rileys were at the farm in Bound Brook. Sometimes Helen dreamed that she was there with them and she awoke bathed in a cold sweat. Then she remembered that she was far away from them in her pink candy villa; that daily on the beach with Miss Fredericks her two children were sunning themselves without interference. Only Walter still had them clamoring and beating against him. Poor Walter. Still, he was used to them.

One evening in July Helen stood at the train with Grace waiting for Walter. Helen, spying him, held Grace aloft that she could wave to him. Helen was in white. Around her fair hair she had tied a white net band. On her feet she wore white low-heeled oxfords. She looked like a very young girl holding aloft a baby sister. Then Helen saw Walter wasn't alone.

"Dirk!" she called. "Oh, Dirk! How grand!" She actually jumped up and down with joy.

He wore a tan linen suit and, like Walter, he was pale and tired.

"I haven't seen you in ages and ages. Oh, Dirk!"

He wrung her hand. "You're a sight to gladden the senses, Nellie; she looks lovely, Walt!"

Walter kissed Helen and Grace. "She gets prettier every time I look at her."

"I'm so glad you came, Dirk."

"I had to work like a trooper to persuade him to come out. I discovered he's been staying at his club the nights he doesn't go out to Greenwich and I just insisted he come out here with me. It's such a short run by train."

"Good for you, Walt!"

"I didn't really need much persuasion, Nellie." He looked down at her quizzically. "You've grown up, Nellie. You're splendid."

They got into the car. Walter took the wheel. Helen sat in the back with Dirk, Grace on her lap.

"Thanks to you," she murmured, picking up the threads of their conversation.

"No, you have yourself to thank. Your growing up was inevitable. You're adaptable, sensible and wise. You don't need me any longer," he said sadly.

"O, Dirk, I do! I've missed you so. Let's not talk about it. Oh, I've missed you so! But let's talk about you."

He made a wry face. "Can we have a swim before dinner?"

"Sure thing," Walter called over his shoulder. "I take a dip every night. You'll feel like a new man after a swim and a good dinner. Maybe we can take in a show to-night too. Well, here we are. Here's the pink love nest!"

Dirk had been in the habit of going up to Greenwich on Wednesday night and again on Friday night and staying till Monday. After his first visit to Long Beach, he went up to Greenwich only on Fridays and the other four nights he came out with Walter.

Belle came to spend several days with Helen at the end of July. She had a surprise for Helen. On her engagement finger she had a small solitaire. Her fiancé came out the next day. He was an assistant instructor of chemistry at Columbia university—a tall, fair young man with a wide, pleasant grin and a sense of humor. His name suited him. It was Guy Etanwick.

"We'll be married as soon as Guy gets his appointment as an instructor. I'll teach until he's made an assistant professor and then I'll resign and we'll have a baby."

"An awful lot depends on you, young man," Dirk laughed at the end of Belle's ultimatum.

Guy grinned. "Belle's got it all laid out like a jigsaw puzzle. I don't know what she'll do if one of the parts doesn't fit."

"Do you know what I'll do, Stanwick?"

"For lord's sake, no!"

"I'll marry you just the same!"

"Cheers for Belle Schiller!" Dirk applauded and they all joined in lustily.

August was hot. It seemed as if the weather was out to break all records. Every night Helen went to meet her two men in the car and now she joined them in their swim before dinner.

"Agnes was in today," Walter told her one evening as he took the wheel.

"Really; on such a hot day?"

"Yes, I tried to coax her to come out here with us but she couldn't. I imagine she's had some fuss with Etella. She said something about going out to your place to see Irene. Dirk, I told her you were going home tomorrow and that if she came out with us tonight, you could drive her out to Greenwich tomorrow when you went."

"That was a clever idea."

"What did she say, dear?"

"To tell you the truth, she seemed to be all excited suddenly over something. She said she had changed her mind and would go out to Greenwich tonight."

"Oh, well, she always was queer. Dirk, I'm all excited! I've been practicing that overhand stroke you taught me. I do it well! I'll even challenge you to a race with it."

"What are the odds?"

"Two to one."

"You're on."

They were in their suits and down at the beach just as the sun, a ball of blood was dipping into the western sky. The beach was dotted with bathers, many of whom, like Walter, had just come in off the train.

The water was cool and refreshing and the men swam easily while Helen valiantly plowed after them, using the new overhand stroke.

"You're pretty awful, darling," Walter laughed. "And you challenge Dirk!"

"And me the erstwhile pride of Yale. It only goes to show the new Helen."

"I was much better this afternoon," Helen panted.

Mamie served their dinner on a card table on the terrace. It was cool now and the early stars hung low in the sky. They ate by the light of a bridge lamp lugged in the hall through the window. Every time Mamie came out she tripped on the cord. The first time Helen giggled and they smiled but the fourth or fifth time they were all choking with laughter. Mamie joining in good-naturedly. The chilled soup and the fresh shrimp salad on watercress were delicious. Helen had brought the recipe for the potato salad from Germany. They ate ravenously. The dessert was a frozen custard. Then iced coffee and chocolate cake.

After dinner they strolled out to the patch of lawn where, under a straggling acacia tree, were set out steamer chairs, and a glider hammock. Still laughing they flopped

"Oh, Walter, don't you know anything newer than that? You know you can tell people's ages by the songs they sing!" Helen declared. (To Be Continued)
